ProjectWise Design Integration Server

Along with the pandemic pushing remote work, the past two plus years have propelled the use of ProjectWise Design Integration Server by more and more engineering companies and owners for basic business reasons. We have multiple examples of companies that have grown 2 and 3 fold after implementing ProjectWise because they become so much more efficient and can handle larger and larger projects.

Several years ago, the cost to companies for ProjectWise has been reduced to simply pay as you go. The only cost is $200 per quarter per unique user in that quarter. Only two annual minimums: $8000 per year (10 users) for deployed server or $40,000 per year (50 users) for cloud server.

Many companies have ProjectWise VISAs that they have had to acquire to access their client's server. If you are paying for more than 10 VISAs per year, you already qualify to host deployed ProjectWise at no additional Bentley charge. You would need inhouse server hardware for the deployed option though. If you are paying for more than 50 VISAs already, you qualify to host ProjectWise in the cloud at no additional Bentley charge.

Give us a call or email to chat about how your company can host ProjectWise Design Integration Server and help your company reach a higher efficiency.
